

Rafah Massacre

On the early morning of Thursday, February 21, 2002, the occupying forces committed a new massacre against Palestinians in the city of Rafah. The result was at least 10 martyrs and more than 80 wounded, in the most intense bombardment from the air, land, and sea, accompanied by an incursion operation.